White House Conference On Strike Is Urged

President Under Pressure To Call White House Conference In Steel Strike

CHING CONTINUES MEDIATION EFFORT

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—President Truman is under pressure today to call a White House steel strike conference before resorting to the Taft-Hartley law to end the four-week shutdown.

A White House conference was urged by Sen. Humphrey (D) Minn., Senate labor committee member, after Mr. Truman told a news conference that if the crippling steel and coal strikes cause a national emergency, he will use the labor law he is pledged to repeal.

Humphrey said the chief executive should offer "his good offices again" in an effort to obtain industrial peace. The president's repeated intervention last summer successfully postponed steel walk-out for 77 days.

No Action At Present
Mr. Truman made it plain, however, that he contemplates no further action at the moment and still hopes for a voluntary settlement of the steel pension dispute. The president strongly reinforced the position of Federal Mediation Director Cyrus S. Ching, who is conducting "marathon" talks with United States Steel in New York trying to mediate the conflict.

Corum Is Named Winn's Successor

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 28.—(INS)—Bill Corum today was named "My Kentucky Derby" successor by the late Col. Matt J. Winn as manager of the annual horse racing classic.

Corum, New York Journal American and International News Service sports columnist, was selected derby manager at a joint meeting in Louisville of the board of directors of Churchill Downs race track and the American Turf association.

Motorists, who were out late last night, report a light display of the aurora borealis, or northern lights, was in evidence just before midnight, in the northern sky.

While a great many trees are virtually bare, there is a huge red oak just inside the entrance to Graceland cemetery, which is really a beautiful sight. Most of the leaves are still on the tree, and they are a beautiful color of red.

Work of leveling off the rubble at the old Central Presbyterian church is being completed today, a bulldozer being employed to level off the ruins, which were piled into the cellar of the century-old edifice, destroyed by fire late in the winter.

Residents of the Croton district were excited this morning, when two deer coming from the Scott Township district marched down Croton avenue and tarried for a while in the vicinity of the Croton school. They soon scampered back toward the rural sections.

Here it is almost November 1 and a farmer was observed plowing ground on the Weigeltown road Thursday afternoon. The farmer had little difficulty in performing his task as the ground turned over just as it would on a mid-summer day.

Admiral L. E. Denfeld Is Removed

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Admiral Louis E. Denfeld and his dog, sat together last night after President Truman announced that Denfeld would be removed from his position as Chief of Naval Operations at request of Navy Secretary Matthews. The ouster was result of Denfeld's opposition to Defense department planning made public in the recent unification fight on Capitol Hill.

Truman Ousts Chief Of Naval Operations

By DARREL GARWOOD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—(INS)—A top navy spokesman said today that Adm. Louis Denfeld will "quit to enter politics" before he accepts a minor post after being ousted by President Truman as chief of naval operations.

It was apparent that last ditch "Big Navy" advocates would try to make Denfeld, who threatens to carry the navy's fight to the people, a martyr in the unification controversies within the armed forces.

Future Assignment Uncertain
Mr. Truman, in removing Denfeld, said he did not know what future assignment would be given the ousted admiral.

Denfeld told a large group of junior naval officers and enlisted men at his home last night:

"The navy is bigger than any individual. I have stood by the navy for 40-odd years, and even though I'm kicked out, I intend to continue standing by them."

There is a possibility that the admiral may go along graciously with the Presidential orders and as a "good sailor" quietly assume whatever new duties are assigned him.

International News Service made the first public disclosure on Oct. 15 of the plans to oust Denfeld as operations chief.

One-Day Delay
A one-day delay in announcement of the order was believed due to the fact that at the last minute, Denfeld learned of the plan to retire him for "ill health," plus an objection by Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Denfeld, 58, with 41 years of naval service, could retire at any time on retirement pay of more than $7,500 a year.

His spokesman said, however, that Denfeld does not want to retire, and that if he leaves the navy he "may enter politics."

Should he stay in the navy, there apparently would be no command open to him higher than the one (Continued on Page Two)

The Monongahela division will become part of the Pittsburgh division.

Appleton said the consolidations are being made to improve the administration efficiency of the railroad.

HONG KONG, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Chinese Communist sources in Hong Kong claimed today that the Nationalist high command lost "another four armies" in the retreat from Canton to southern Kwangtung province.

County's Million Dollar Highway Work Inspected

Highways are interesting, twenty city, county and civic leaders found Thursday afternoon on the annual highway tour conducted by the Pennsylvania Department of Highways over Lawrence county roads.

Outwardly, it seemed that little was done in the way of highway construction in Lawrence county during 1949 but the local highway maintenance forces were not idle during the construction period as the group of inspectors learned, much to their amazement before the trip was many miles old.

Led by Glen D. Myers, assistant district engineer from the Franklin office, the interested group learned that a million dollars were spent in road improvements in the county in 1949 with several times this amount to be poured into the county in new roads and improvement of others planned by the department for 1950.

Improve Eleven Miles
In Lawrence county approximately 11 miles of highways were authorized for improvement during 1949 with two and a half miles done by private contractors and the remainder done by the efficient maintenance workers under the supervision of Alfred A. Martin, county superintendent and his assistants, Glen Hileman, pilot of Thursday's trip, and Claude McFall.

In addition to the construction work, 34 miles of county roads (Continued on Page Two)

Bidault Names French Cabinet

Selects Cabinet After Being Given Approval As French Premier

PARIS, Oct. 28.—(INS)—France's record 23-day government crisis ended today when the national assembly approved Georges Bidault, resistance hero and former foreign minister, as premier.

Bidault, a leader of the Catholic Popular Republic party (MRP), immediately selected a new coalition cabinet from deputies of the Centrist parties which have united to form the "Third Force."

The ministers, most of them belonging to the MRP, the Socialists, or the radical Socialists (Conservatives) were presented to President Vincent Auriol.

Big Vote For Him

Although new tests still lie ahead for Bidault, the 50-year-old premier was heartened by the relatively big vote in his favor. With only the Communists opposed, Bidault was confirmed 367 to 183.

But his infant regime is by no means out of the woods.

Next Tuesday the premier and his cabinet will face the assembly for a confidence vote on his program. In addition, the internal squabbles that caused the fall of Premier Henri Queuille's government, and prevented two other Third Force leaders from forming cabinets, are bound to beset Bidault.

Turn On Lights At Castlewood

Castlewood was illuminated by 63 two hundred and fifty candle-power street lights at 8:55 p.m. Thursday, following a celebration of the event in East New Castle Grange hall, at which J. C. Kennedy presided.

Addresses were made by Rev. E. J. Moss, Harmony Baptist church, and L. B. Round, vice president and general manager of the Pennsylvania Power company.

During the meeting, the Shengango township high school band gave several selections, following which the lights were turned on.

Approximately 100 person who were assembled then made an auto tour of the illuminated districts, the improvement receiving hearty commendation.

Programs Arranged

The day has been declared Statue of Liberty today throughout the country, and many programs are scheduled.

At Miss Liberty's feet, the honors will be done by Henri Bonnet, French ambassador to the U.S.; Attorney General J. Howard McGrath, Mayor William O'Dwyer, and other dignitaries.

The dedication ceremonies 63 years ago were led by President Cleveland. There was a parade in the city of 25,000 persons, and in the harbor some 300 French and American vessels took part in a water pageant.

The Statue of Liberty arrived in the U.S. in 214 cases aboard the French ship Isere in May, 1885.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Four Americans and two Britons were killed early today when their amphibian plane crashed and burned after taking off from London's Heathrow airport.

Two of the Americans, both crewmen, were listed as Capt. Joseph Jordan of Los Angeles, and a radio officer named Cole for whom no address was available.

Earl O. Savage, 33, American pilot, said to live in Egypt, was saved when he was thrown clear of the plane, a Grumman Mallard owned by the Superior Oil Co., Los Angeles. Savage was taken to West Middlesex hospital.

(In Los Angeles, the firm identified the other victims as Robert Allen, 45, vice president, and James Lewis, 40, company attorney.

Rescue workers used foam equipment to put out the blaze and remove the charred bodies.

With its four passengers and three crew members, the plane had just left the runway when it is believed its engines cut out.

Visibility at the time was only about 600 yards.

President Signs Bill To Expand Atom Facilities

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—(INS)—President Truman today signed into law legislation to permit a 300 million dollar expansion of the nation's atomic facilities.

The measure will order an appropriation bill rider which required the atomic energy commission to explain to congress any construction project exceeding its originally estimated cost by more than 15 per cent.

The action permits the president to make available immediately 30 million dollars for the expansion program at the Hanford, Wash., and Oak Ridge, Tenn., atomic plants.

Congress will be asked at its next session which begins Jan. 3, to appropriate the remaining 270 million dollars required for the three-year expansion program.

Two Of Eight Jail Fugitives Are Recaptured

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 28.—(INS)—Prison doors clanged today behind two of eight heavily-armed convicts who fled Newcastle county workhouse late Wednesday to touch off Delaware's greatest manhunt.

Six fugitives remained at large after Maryland State Police seized John H. Minor, 28, of Bear Cleeve, Fla., a lifer, and Jesse W. Palmer, 18, serving 12 years for robbery, after a wild mile-a-minute auto chase near Northeast, Md., last night.

The pair was armed, but did not attempt to fire a shot when state police with drawn revolvers cornered them when their stolen car overturned to climax the 11-mile pursuit.

Authorities of four states immediately redoubled their efforts to corral the prisoners still free.

Planes, huge posses numbering hundreds of men, and even bloodhounds were thrown into the extensive manhunt as police toiled frantically to corner the six escaped convicts, all of whom are reported "dangerous" and "armed to the teeth."

HORTA, The Azores, Oct. 28.—(INS)—A luxurious New York-bound Air France Constellation carrying 48 persons including former middleweight champion Marcel Cerdan and 11 Americans crashed and burned today on a mountain peak in the remote Azores Islands.

Many hours later, it still was not known if there were any survivors.

Just before dusk, the first search party was reported to have reached the scene of the crash—a treacherous mountain area on the Island of San Miguel 90 miles southwest of Horta on the main Azores Island of Fayal.

Searchers were headed by the Air France manager at Santa Maria field on Horta.

He made a 20-minute flight to Ste. Anne on San Miguel and led a group of rescue workers to the scene by automobile and mule pack.

A second party of Air France investigators was expected to reach the wreck at 4 p. m. EST.

Navy Secretary Notifies Denfeld Of His Ouster

By DARRELL GARWOOD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Navy Secretary Matthews today formally notified Adm. Louis E. Denfeld in a face-to-face interview of President Truman's decision to remove Denfeld as chief of naval operations.

Matthews' office said after the one-hour conference that the secretary had "discussed possible new duties for the admiral" who was ousted from the high navy post for his opposition to Defense Secretary Johnson's unification policies.

Denfeld told newsmen later that he has not yet "decided as to my future." Earlier today, he indicated he would resign from the navy and a spokesman said Denfeld would quit and "enter politics" rather than accept a subordinate post.

Matthews said he delayed notifying Denfeld of his ouster until he received an official copy of President Truman's approval. He said Denfeld "asked time to consider developments affecting a new duty assignment."

The secretary said he assured Denfeld that he would do "everything possible to make the remaining period of his service a fitting climax to his distinguished career."

COUNTY'S MILLION DOLLAR HIGHWAY WORK INSPECTED

where surface treated by the department forces. The work consisted of rejuvenation of bituminous surfaced highways by placing a light application of bituminous material and chips over the present surface. There were also three bridges painted by contract during the present building season.

Tour Starts

Anxious to see what had been done in the way of improvements to county roads, the six car caravan left the highway garage on Wilmington road shortly after one p. m. Thursday and traveled over route 108, the Harlansburg road to the Game Farm road where they traveled south toward Kennedy's Mills in Scott township. The project, 89 miles in length, consisted of placing a one inch blacktop on crushed aggregate base which made a very decided improvement in that section.

Motoring on the group arrived at the Frew Mill road where they could see the work in the raw. Men were engaged here in grading the section between Gibsontale and Slippery Rock creek in Slippery Rock township. The section of road, 1.83 miles in length, was recently authorized and the base work is scheduled for completion this fall.

Leaving the Frew Mill road at Heveland church, the group traveled over traffic route 422 where they found a recently blacktopped highway providing a fine smooth riding surface for the heavy traffic that passes over that road. They traveled to state route 88 via Enery to the foot of Brown Hill on the Ellwood road, proceeding through Wurttemberg to Beaver county.

Visit Park Gate

At Park Gate, adjacent to Ellwood City, the officials and visitors inspected Route 37011 in Wayne township between Ellwood City and the Beaver county line which was a 2-inch blacktop project covering a distance of 57 miles. In Perry township, the group inspected Route 37082, two miles east of Ellwood City where another important blacktop project was carried out.

Moving on to the Chewton district the caravan was taken to Legislative Route 37013 and 37012 both in Wayne township, where important work was done in grading, relocating in part and blacktopping. On the latter project, one of the biggest pieces of construction done in District One which embraces most of Western Pennsylvania has been completed. Here a 35 foot fill was made by the local workmen in building this road before the surface could be applied.

The tour concluded at West Pittsburgh where the work done on the bridge over the Beaver river was inspected.

1950 Banner Year

Superintendent Martin and Mr. Myers stated that 1950 should be a banner year in highway construction in Lawrence county. Work on new traffic Route 422, east of the city, will definitely get under way next spring at cost of several million dollars and the turnpike work through the county will add to the tax dollars which will be spent in the county.

Residents of the Harlansburg road will welcome the news released by the highway officials that that road will be widened, relocated in places and completely resurfaced from the city line to the Butler county line. This project scheduled for 1950 will make a great improvement in that road which was constructed in the early twenties.

In addition to the highway officials making the trip on Thursday, traveling along were: County Commissioner Harvey Bush, Mayor John F. Haven, Jacob F. Wachtman of the G.N.C.A., Fred Clark of the State Truckers Association, Burgess Houk of Ellwood City, Joe Frengel and other civic leaders.

The best proof that the earth is round is that its shadow on the moon, at the time of eclipse, always is circular. Nothing but a ball will always cast a circular shadow no matter how you hold it. In addition, we can measure the earth's curvature, and we can sail around it.

NEW YORK BOUND PLANE CRASHES IN AZORES ISLANDS

ern, well-equipped airport of Santa Maria on Fayal, used extensively by the United States Air Force during the war.

Instead, the plane crashed into a peak named Mt. Algarvia—also spelled Algaria—more than 3,000 feet high and 15 miles from the nearest hamlet.

Remoteness of the crash area, lack of transportation facilities, poor communications and bad atmospheric conditions made it virtually impossible for many hours to piece together the full story.

Violinist Aboard

Another well-known passenger in addition to the popular and hard-hitting Cerdan was Ginette Neveu, brilliant Parisian violinist, who was on her way to the United States for a sold-out concert tour with nine symphony orchestras.

A third familiar name was that of Boutet De Monvel, one of France's best-known modern artists.

The first report that a search party had reached the scene gave no details.

It was assumed the party had made its way on foot or by muleback over the rugged terrain and up almost impassable mountain trails.

Early today, the plane's wreckage had been sighted by search planes after the station manager at Santa Maria had dispatched this message to Paris headquarters of Air France.

Plane, situated northeast San Miguel, search plane says there are survivors. Am going there at once.

All aerial and other transport facilities in the Azores, a group of Portuguese islands some 2,300 miles east of New York, were pressed into service in the flickering hope that some of those aboard the ill-starred plane might be found alive.

LURE OF GOLD

At Fish Wheel, Alaska, newest town on the North American continent, the temperature hovers at 20 degrees below zero and may descend to 70 below before spring, but the inhabitants are reported as oblivious to the elements. They are kept warm by the age-old lure of gold.

The stamped to Fish Wheel following discovery of nuggets in the Yukon near the Arctic Circle by a fisherman who was removing his traps for the winter has been the largest in Alaska in 30 years. A tent settlement lines the Yukon for miles, and log cabins are being erected.

Prospectors, experienced and greenhorn, are being flown to the site from Fairbanks and other Alaskan points. The one-way fare from Fairbanks, a distance of 160 miles, is $50. Picturesque dog sleds of other Alaskan gold stampedes seem to have been left behind by the march of progress, although before winter ends a few hardy prospectors may arrive in Fish Wheel by this means of conveyance.

Those on the scene say definite determination of the extent of the "find" must await the spring thaw. Those who have staked claims can do little to ascertain whether the discovery is really a bonanza while the river and ground are frozen solid, they point out. But come spring, Fish Wheel will be a boiling mass of humanity, attracted by the most potent lure of all—gold.

SOCIALISM'S FRUIT

English socialism, which American taxpayers have been aiding in financing, is facing a test. Attlee and his cohorts who sponsored it are holding on to their sinecures on the public payroll by a slender thread. The American public has not been getting the full story of the socialist debacle in England because American representatives in charge of distributing American billions, either sat on the facts or distorted them for American consumption.

But when a full blown welfare state addict as Attlee tells his followers that henceforth they will be asked to eat still less and work harder, the utopia really is in bad shape. And—get this—hereafter Britons will be compelled to pay for their prescriptions under the socialized medicine setup inaugurated by Attlee & Company.

When the socialists are forced to retreat on socialized medicine, that is really something.

Try as he will, the head of the British isocialist government cannot hide the stark facts of the complete failure of his mischievous program. The socialists promised the British peace, plenty, prosperity and little work—on the familiar anything to get elected theory—for their votes.

Now Attlee says they must eat less, work longer hours, wear less and subjugate themselves in complete misery for good old Karl Marx. The socialist outfit has run its course in Britain, to the ever lasting detriment of the nation.

LOOKING AHEAD

People often wonder about the fate of the next generation, tax-ridden and saddled with a $250,000,000,000 debt. The prospect seems to be that the next generation will be saddled with still more taxes and debts.

More and more people are demanding pensions, political response to popular clamor being what it is, seem to have a good chance of latching on to them.

There is today one citizen 65 years of age or more for every eight citizens of working age. Experts who study population trends predict that 25 years hence there will be one older to every five people of working age. The five will be called upon to pay the pension of one man or woman. If inflation continues on its present course, that pension will be considerably higher than the sums now mentioned.

Pensions for veterans, public employees and those under the old age insurance program will come out of taxes. That will put the tax bill higher and higher. Pensions for union members in industry will be added to the price of the product. That will boost the cost of living higher and higher.

The next generation may get used to still higher taxes and greatly increased prices. It may be amused when it reads of the campaign of 1948 in which each party accused the other of responsibility for the high cost of living and promised to reduce it.

TYPICAL MOTOR ACCIDENT VICTIM

The National Safety Council has drawn a picture of the typical pedestrian who is the victim of motor accidents on the streets and public roads of the nation.

The portrait shows a man of fifty-eight years, a native of the United States or an English-speaking country; who has lived in his home city for a period of twenty-three years.

This average man has had only an eighth-grade education, does not drive a car, has slowed reactions and set habits, and is what the council calls "hard to reach educationally."

It is not surprising that this average pedestrian should become a victim of a motor accident, for he is not trained to visualize the danger involved in violating the rules of safety.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

An apparent let-up in the tempo of East German propaganda with regard to all-out Soviet collaboration was reported from Berlin today.

Communist Premier Otto Grotewohl summoned a special news conference to scotch reports that eastern Germany is seeking a separate peace treaty with Soviet Russia.

Such rumors were prevalent a week or so ago. Well-informed international observers did not give them much credence, for a unilateral action by Russia in signing a pact with one section of a divided Germany would violate all international commitments and probably result in another grave diplomatic setback for Moscow.

But vociferous East German propagandists nevertheless had played long and loudly on the theme.

Grotewohl apparently has found it a rather distasteful one and has let it be known that eastern Germans will be satisfied for the present with removal of occupation troops.

Must Embrace All Germany

He also said that when a peace treaty is signed it must embrace all of Germany. This was another implied bid for Communist control of the whole country plus an admission of the idea of much friendship and cooperation with the Russians—particularly if this excludes other international relationships—is inadvisable.

There is little doubt that Soviet diplomatic bungles in recent weeks have made an impression upon the eastern Germans.

Foreign Minister Vishinsky's defeat before the United Nations when Yugoslavia was elected to a seat on the Security Council over his strenuous objections has not gone unnoticed.

Nor has the continued persecution of the Roman Catholic Church in Czechoslovakia.

The oppressive measures which finally compelled Catholic bishops to approve a conditional oath of loyalty by their priests to the Czech state must revive memories of the Nazi days.

Adolf Hitler's open methods of persecution were directed mainly against the Jews. But he also operated a vast undercover movement against the Catholic Church. Convents and monasteries were his chief targets because he could molest their inmates without attracting too much public notice.

Public Shocked

But every so often the German public was shocked by publication of trumped-up charges against clergymen and members of monastic orders, often on trivial grounds. These events always deeply affected the traditionally devout church-going masses.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TRAINING CHILD TO EAT WELL

Yesterday we considered ways of helping the tot three years old, whose meals have been a nightmare to him, to his mother, even grounds. These events always deeply affected the traditionally devout church-going masses.

We observed that this child needs to learn between meals to accept unemotionally the word "No" uttered in moderate tones, so that he may be prepared to accept this monosyllable in like fashion at mealtime. As in toilet training, so in eating, this apparent need of administering physical pain tends to hamper or prevent progress.

I emphasize the need of perfect poise and self-control by the parent in charge and of cooperative silence in respect to this child's eating, by the rest of the family; the youngsters should not be coaxed or commanded to eat nor be fed, but allowed to choose whether to eat or not and with his bare hands if he preferred. Very soon, of course, he will choose to use a spoon or fork.

Small Helpings

I emphasized simple sequence, one food at a time, and very, very, very small helpings. If you give this poor eater several foods together he will incline to mix them at play and you to command and press him to eat.

Always let the youngster choose whether to eat or not and what to eat. Merely limit the choices to two or three small portions of food, one of them or nothing. Make the portion small enough that he will be the more ready to eat it in order to get the next small portion of food. No seconds on any food until he has run the gamut of the several foods you will offer him in sequence. In the early stages the number of such foods might well be small and include some you are sure he will greatly enjoy. The smaller the portion of each food offered the less likely his resistance. It may be wise to make the amount of each at first no bigger than a lima bean, or only a few table-spoonfuls of milk.

When he clearly refuses one food offered let him get down. End his meal then and see that he can get no other food till the next meal. If he has learned properly to accept "No" as final when uttered in a moderate tone, the next food he may have might well be in sight before he finishes this one.

Variety of Foods

On successive meals it might be well to have a variety of foods somewhat different from those of the preceding meal. And if there is a food you know he violently dislikes you might avoid it for several meals or while you get him going and conforming to sequence. Of course, such problems might easily have been prevented if the basic principles involved had been observed. Let mothers of infants take note. (My bulletins, "Eating Problems" and "Stubbiness," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y.) I wish many more young mothers would study these bulletins.

If you have literally followed the foregoing with a tot two, three or four, for a week or two and see no progress, or if nausea should develop, the child, consult your physician.

Roll Out The Barrel!

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Forming Socialist Bloc

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 28.—The split across the European continent between east and west is obvious enough. But there is another division that is becoming more apparent with the passage of time.

The Scandinavian countries and Great Britain form what for lack of a better term might be called a Socialist bloc. In contrast to the trend in the rest of the Europe, they have continued to evolve in the general direction of the welfare state. And if the recent election in Norway was any indication, that is what most people in this part of the world want.

In each of these countries earnest and hard-working governments recruited for the most part from the labor movement, are carrying out a broad degree of economic planning. This is partly to counter the postwar inflation. But also, and more important, it is in line with a deliberate full-employment policy intended to prevent the ups and downs of the business cycle.

Means Regulation

This means restrictions and regulation. It means a calculated tax policy aimed at keeping purchasing power at a high level and profits at a comparatively low level.

The men carrying out this policy overburdened and hard-pressed as they are, tend to look with suspicion and even distrust on those nations that are following a more laissez-faire policy. They are less or less free and untrammelled. They are particularly distrustful of continental nations that seem to be enjoying a flush of prosperity under the banner of free enterprise.

It is believed here that this seeming prosperity, and this applies especially to Germany and Italy, is an uncertain quantity. Free enterprise within the Socialist bloc is considered within the Socialist bloc to be at best an ersatz product created for the benefit of America.

This suggests the nature of a division in western Europe that can have serious consequences as the countries on the continent move more and more to the right. Out of the growing distrust can come a kind of isolationism.

Implics Isolation

The preoccupation with economic planning and social management in itself implies isolation. You can keep your own house in good order and if the rest of the world persists in behaving in a foolish and perilous way, then there is nothing you can do about it. That attitude has strongly colored the British Labor party and it is observable in Scandinavia.

The effort to buttress the economy against all possible shocks, both from within and without, calls for an increasing concentration of control. Here in Sweden the increasing degree of control has called forth a protest that seems to me to be, in its intention, a broad isolationism.

Any building of the United Nations can't have too many cornerstones.

But prospects for peace look much better, the delegates will work behind six acres of glass and you know how it is to live in a glass house.

We're having a great election campaign in New York. Marcantonio has promised, if elected, to bring back the five cent fare. In his closing speech he's expected to come out strongly for the kerosene lamp, button shoes and handlebar mustaches for all policemen.

All O'Dwyer has promised is continued aid to Europe, fair wages for the steel workers of Pittsburgh and garden apartment for all natives of Puerto Rico. That is, if he can get the city council to legislate nationally.

A Way With Communists

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 28.—Not to take anything away from Judge Medina, my candidate for All-American tacker of the Communist problem is the late Dr. Francis E. King, a dentist in Baltimore, my home town. The story I have to tell is not new, except for Dr. King's part in it. And while the story is old, it is also timely and even timeless in its special sort of humor.

It's March 5, 1930, and the country is in a tidget because tomorrow the Communists are scheduled to hold nation-wide demonstrations. In Baltimore a group of Commies (the leaders imported from New York) are going to stage a parade, ending in an indignation meeting in front of the City Hall. The Mayor hasn't returned from a convenient Florida vacation. The Police Commissioner is prepared to fight it out with night sticks, the Baltimore Sun papers don't know how they're going to handle this unwelcome news story. The Commies, of course, are hoping for a first-class riot. To make sure of police interference they have refused to apply for a license to hold their parade.

Telephone Rings

Then the telephone rings in the office of the Police Commissioner, General Charles D. Gaither, and the voice introduces itself as that of Dr. King.

"It's all very simple," says Dr. King. "All you have to do, Commissioner, is grab some bum off the street and persuade him to apply for that license."

Who was Dr. King? What did he have against the Commies? Well, he was one of those delightful characters which every city possesses, especially cities like Baltimore. A jovial, ruddy, well-preserved fellow in his late middle-age, Dr. King might just as well have been a grocer or corner druggist as a dentist. He did his work well, but his rule of life was the enjoyment of friendships and sport. He was proud to know George (Knockout) Chaney, the town's favorite pugilist; Jack Dunn, the owner-manager of the then famous Orioles; Roger Pippen, the sports writer who was one of the several "discoverers" of Babe Ruth. Dr. King was vice president of the State Golf Association, he played strenuous tennis and refereed amateur football games. The only game he didn't care for was basketball, claiming that the referees interfered too much with the players. The only group he actively disliked was the Commies. He said they were "rotten sports," a damning indictment in his book.

Jumps At Idea

Well, Commissioner Gaither, who knew Dr. King only slightly, jumped at the inspirational idea. A cop named Ed Hitzelberger went out on the town and, as a fun-loving fellow would have it, put the snatch on a wayfaring vagabond with the glorious name of George Alexander Turnipseed, colored. It was no trouble at all to convince Turnipseed that he lived at 1238 Madison Avenue (a non-existent address), that he was a Communist and that he wanted to see a parade. Accompanied by Hitzelberger, Comrade Turnipseed went to the City Hall and applied for a parade license. This historical document, to keep the record exact, was titled A-585.

On the morning of March 6th, 1930, about 150 Commies and hangers-on gathered at the Red headquarters at 514 Eutaw Street. From the windows they could see scores of policemen, seemingly on hand to give them trouble. Hearts aflame with martyrs' zeal, the Reds issued into the street and commenced the march. The cops went into action, all right, but only to clear the street of pedestrians and to stop all cross-traffic in the line of march.

Never Parade Like It

There was never a parade quite like it. Comrade Turnipseed's license made everything both legal and hilarious. The Commissioner had assigned no less than 900 cops, not counting detectives, who cleared the way and then fell in at the end of the procession. Spectators, white and colored, jeered the unhappy marchers. They reached the City Hall to find it lavishly festooned with flags and flowers to greet the Mayor who was due later in the day. The municipal officials on duty had thoughtfully decked themselves with red carnations and red ties.

At the City Plaza the Commies produced soapboxes and began to sound off. But their theme song was ruined. They'd expected bloody noses and cracked heads with which to dramatize the repression of their constituents. But the cops, in speech and assembly. Instead they had a cordon of police protection, some 3500 grinning onlookers and the impeccable licensee, Comrade Turnipseed.

Fate Adds Poignant Note

Fun-loving fate chose this moment to add a poignant note. Just as the Commies were lifting their hymn of hate, the chimes of the Zion Lutheran Church rang out to summon noon-time worshippers to Lenten services.

Next morning the Baltimore Sun had a wonderful front-page story. The Commie demonstrations had resulted in tear gas in New York and blackjacks in Washington. In Detroit 31 persons were arrested and 15 hospitalized. Milwaukee had 47 arrests, Seattle had 12. In Los Angeles and San Francisco there were mixed bags of violence and commotion. But in Baltimore—only this burlesque of a parade.

Dr. King didn't want his name used, and it never was during his lifetime. I use it now with the permission of his family and in the name of public service. With Paul Robeson and other Commies on the loose, many cities could adopt Dr. King's genius and their advantage. I know of no better memorial to Dr. King's genius than the widespread use of Turnipseed instead of rocks and rioting against the Commies.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

On my way from Washington to Harrisburg, Pa., the other day, I had an experience which seems to me rather typical of our American way of life.

Instead of going the direct route, I picked a much longer, but much more picturesque one, via Falls Church and Leesburg in Virginia and then on, by side roads, to Harpers Ferry up to Hagers-town, Md., etcetera.

Here I was in our country's most historical section where America's freedom was established, where almost every acre spoke of the price that was paid for that freedom.

It was close to noon and I got hungry. I stopped my car and asked one of the natives whether he knew of a good place to eat.

He did, and told me exactly where I could get a juicy steak and a good cup of coffee.

As he was talking I noticed a road sign: "Sharpsburg 6 miles." "Sharpsburg—Sharpsburg," I thought. "Doesn't that name register? Wasn't some big battle fought somewhere around here?"

I asked the native. "Gee, I don't know," he replied. "I don't go in much for battle. I'm too busy with my farm work."

I thanked him and went on. But instead of proceeding to the cafe he had recommended, I field site looked at the cemetery and the monuments to the brave and forgotten soldiers who died here in 1862.

I paid them a silent tribute—

High Pep Assembly Buries Old Spirit

Students Have Big Rally This Morning In Preparation For Game At Washington

If echoes of loud, boisterous but well organized cheering reach New Castle anytime after 8 o'clock tonight, it can be attributed to the enthusiastic group of high school students who are following their team to Washington.

The group got well warmed up this morning at a pep assembly in the high school auditorium.

Although the team has staged some thrilling games and emerged victorious on every occasion, the cheering and conduct of the students has reflected little pride in the football team.

This morning, Miss Bernice Bartlett warned the assembly gathering that this would be the last pep assembly if the cheering were not more enthusiastic and better organized. To signal the birth of a new cheering spirit, a large coffin was carried onto the stage marked "Old School Spirit", accompanied by a preacher, mourners and a funeral dirge. After appropriate burial services, the new spirit made its appearance in a little wagon, with balloons, whistles and a doll baby. The babe was welcomed warmly and the cheering that ensued was the best in high school so far this season.

The crippled, but all victorious Red Hurricane is going to need all the support it can get during the next three football games. From the performance today it looks as if it will be there.

Provincial Theatre May Reorganize Here

There seems to be a good possibility that the Provincial Theatre may reorganize in New Castle.

A number of young men and women who are interested in drama have considered the idea and if sufficient interest is shown an attempt will be made to bring back local talent plays this winter. The Provincial Theatre was organized in 1937 and for a number of years before the war did some fine theatricals. James Sotus is sounding out sentiment upon the reorganization idea and any one interested is asked to call him at 2731-J.

"Assignment; America"

By INEZ ROBB

(Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
(Distributed by International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(INS)—This is an interim report on the Robb sure-fire method of how to be happy though abroad. After seven weeks in Europe, I can say without fear or favor that the method has paid off once more in golden dividends.

My method is based on my complete inability to speak any language except American and my incapacity to add, even on eleven fingers or is it ten?

The first precludes all possibility of the happy traveler getting into fistfights because he has misunderstood that some foreigner has said to him or about him. If the traveler can't understand in the first place, he certainly is in no position to misunderstand.

Simplifies Travel

This simplifies travel amazingly and even makes foreigners into likeable Joes. After all, any American, by talking loudly, adding gestures, throwing in a little pantomime and, in hard cases, by drawing pictures, can get a hotel room or a meal any place in the world. I have heard a handful of American travelers recently complain that all Europeans hate Americans. "Despite the Marshall Plan," they always add.

Invariably the complainants were persons who had suffered the disadvantages of a few years of high school French or college Spanish. Just enough to make 'em misunderstand such simple phrases as "Flesche d'or," which means Golden Arrow, the name of that fast train between London and Paris, and decidedly not "love for sale."

Dissenting Opinion

In regard to this matter, I wish to enter a strong dissenting opinion. I did not feel any hostility toward Americans at all. On the contrary, I have never received more warm and generous treatment everywhere, a more whole-hearted welcome from my old European acquaintances, or more polite, willing and speedy service than on this recent trip.

No single factor today, not even possession of blonde tresses, makes for so much genuine happiness in travelling abroad as an inability to add. There is only one thing to be said about European currency today: All is confusion. It is no longer a case of simple addition, subtraction and multiplication.

With approximately 352 francs and 667 lire to the dollar, any financial transaction is a problem in logarithms and one better fitted for the slide rule and Harvard's mechanical brain than for just plain people.

Robb Method

In foreign places, the Robb method has always called for thrusting out a fistful of money in payment for anything, and letting the other fellow make the change, and never mind caveat emptor!

I have used this method for years and have never been cheated—as far as I know. It worked just dandy again this year.

Anyway, the Robb who came home with his eye-teeth intact is me. The one who lost 'em is the one who speaks Italian like a native and can add and subtract just as good and as fast as a machine.

In Rome, he saw a beautiful dress in a shop window and insisted that it was made for his little woman. On a proposition such as that, my wrists twist easy. But when we went into the shop, I insisted he find out how much it cost before he committed himself.

With dazzling aplomb, he burst into a cascade of Italian. The shop assistant came right back with a cloud burst. My husband looked smug.

"Take it," he said. "It's only 19,000 lire. Less than $30."

"It can't be," I hissed back. "It's pure silk. It's beautifully made, by hand. Make him write the figures down on a piece of paper."

My spouse looked pained. Again Italian filled the air.

"It's still 19,000 lire," he said loftily.

"Sold American," I agreed.

Unfortunately there is a P.S. When the dress was delivered at our hotel, the bill read "90,000 lire" a natural mistake, my spouse maintains with dignity, and a mistake only of $105.

However, if he were a convert to the Robb sure fire method of how to be happy though abroad, if he couldn't add or speak any foreign languages, he wouldn't have been out all that money.

On the other hand, I wouldn't have the dress.

A wedding supper was served to the immediate families in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arrel Bradley. Later in the evening Mrs. Caldwell McConnell, sister of the bride, and her husband entertained in their home at Volant.

Mission Services

Planned By Group

Arrangements for services to be held each Sunday afternoon from 2 to 3 o'clock were discussed by the jail visitors at a meeting held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Zeigler of 416 Winter avenue. These meetings will be held in the rooms of the Temple club starting the first Sunday in November under the name of the "Open Door Mission."

These services are to be held to maintain interest in religion for those who have been in jail and who perhaps would not want to go back to their own church after release because of the stigma attached to the fact that they have been in jail.

Officers elected were: president, John A. Martin; secretary, William Bates; visiting committee, Mrs. A. W. Zeigler, John A. Martin, William Bates, Larry Deplacido; program committee, Misses Karna and Barbara Drake and Robert Carnes; news reporter, Dorothy Reid.

Afterwards the group saw some interesting travelogue pictures, which were shown by Mr. Zeigler. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Zeigler at the close of the meeting.

State Capitol

Election In 1950
Interest CenterGovernor, U. S. Senator,
Congressmen And State
Officers To Be NamedOTHER NEWS OF
STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Oct. 28.—(INS)—The November 8 elections are considered of minor importance stacked against the "important" 1950 elections when a governor, U. S. senator, congressmen and other state officers will be filled. Actually the balloting little more than a week away will decide several important issues.

First, there is the proposed amendment to the state constitution to provide "additional bonded indebtedness" of $500,000,000 for the soldiers' bonus which alone makes the voting important, financially.

Two other amendments will appear on the ballot. One of them proposes to permit absentee voting by bedridden or hospitalized war veterans. The other asks authorization for the legislature to exempt for 25 years redevelopment authorities from taxes on land acquired for urban redevelopment.

Only state-wide office to be voted upon is for the $21,000-a-year superior court post held by Judge William E. Hirt, of Erie, who seeks re-election.

Important indirectly to the over-all state picture is the election of 21 mayors and several hundred other municipal officials. Voters in Allegheny and Clearfield county will elect an assemblyman each to fill vacancies created by death.

There will be no balloting on the beer-liquor question since the issue was settled during the September primaries for those communities faced with a decision.

The appointment of Deputy Secretary Gene D. Smith, of Allentown, as acting secretary of the commonwealth, to replace Charles M. Morrison who resigned because of illness, came as a complete surprise to Smith. He was eating lunch in the capitol cafeteria when a reporter told him . . . Smith was caught unawares to the extent that he couldn't tell the newsmen what salary he was getting as deputy secretary. . . . It's $8,472.

The beauty of Pennsylvania's landscape was brought together on the canvases of the Harrisburg Art Association over the weekend and displayed on the capitol park grounds. Visitors to the capitol thought it a quiet, but fitting contribution to the Pennsylvania Week windup.

Newspapers, radio and 45 civic organizations were credited with great influence in cutting down the state's highway death toll in the past year by the bureau of highway safety. The bureau is celebrating its first year's activity in cooperation with the president's highway safety conference with what it considers considerable success. Although the first year was spent mainly in organization activities, the program was responsible for cutting the traffic fatality toll from 148 in the first eight months of 1948 to 127 in the first two-thirds of this year. Pennsylvania is the first state to attempt a wholesale program to coordinate public information in the war on traffic deaths. Among the bureau's accomplishments are distribution of 3,000 safety program kits, pressuring for an additional 200 troopers on the state police force, and obtaining approval for eight permanent drivers' clinics to be set up with specially designed equipment to teach and improve drivers throughout the state.

Highways Secretary Ray F. Smock, in a dedication speech opening the Clarks-Ferry-Speersville dual lane highway, said the state's "vast program of highway construction is not being undertaken simply to build more highways not to spend more money than our sister states. It represents an honest and conscientious effort to provide long overdue transportation facilities throughout the commonwealth for its expanding economy."

Folks Of Fame

Nov. 30, 1667, was the birth date and Hoey's court, Dublin, Ireland, the place for Dean Jonathan Swift. He was employed first as a secretary to an English statesman. He lived alternately in Ireland and London, where he was center of a brilliant literary group. He was dean of St. Patrick's, Dublin, and England's best known satirist. At times he wielded a great deal of influence over her politics. Tale of a Tub is one of his most original satires, but Gulliver's Travels is best known today. He wrote a Journal to Stella, a young woman with whom he was in love for years, but never married. He died in Dublin Oct. 19, 1745.

An American general and statesman, Sam Houston was born near Lexington, Va., March 2, 1793. Moving to Tennessee he obtained a place as clerk in a trader's store, but ran away and lived with the Cherokee Indians for nearly three years. He served under Andrew Jackson in the war against the Creek Indians. Soon after the outbreak of the War for Texan Independence he was chosen commander-in-chief of the Texan army, and completely routed the Mexicans led by Santa Ana. He was made president of Texas and served until 1844. A city was named in his honor. After Texas became a state of the Union he was elected one of its first two United States senators, and later was its governor. He was declared deposed when he tried to prevent the secession of his state in the Civil war and refused to swear allegiance to the Confederacy. He died July 26, 1863.

Albert Anastasia Tells Of Trip Through Italy

After a splendid trip on the luxurious liner, Queen Elizabeth, to Cherbourg, France, and then by train to Italy to see his mother, Albert Anastasia of 318 Winter avenue, who wrote material for this article, is now back in New Castle. In part he says:

In traveling across Italy by train I have noticed that they have improved greatly in the 28 years since I had been there. Most of them now run by electricity. You may go from Rome to Naples in less than two hours, a distance of 210 kilometers or approximately 130 miles. From Milan to Naples, a distance of 837 kilometers or 525 miles, it takes eight hours and 37 minutes.

Talking to a head man of the railroad, he told me that it was the Fascist government that improved the railroad. It was their decision to have the entire railroad run by electricity. At that time Italy led the other European countries in number of miles of railroads, by having 2800 kilometers or 1750 miles. In 1919, before the Fascist regime, there were only 700 kilometers.

Poor Conditions

Conditions in Italy are generally poor. Walking on a street in Naples one day, a child, rather poor, was walking beside me. He looked tired and his face so pale, with no shoes and his trousers a mass of patches. I gave him some money as he said he hadn't eaten for a while. He looked at me with surprise, then at the money, and said "Grazie Signore". I was then followed by two youngsters who asked for some help. I gave them money and they disappeared.

In Europe they recognize you right away if you are an American and always expect something from you. They make you feel like you are a distinguished man when among them, and seem to want to say "You're a lucky guy".

Rome, Florence, Naples, Pisa and other big cities in Italy are very different from our American cities. Hotel accommodations are scarce here and you are lucky if you can get a room in which to sleep. We spent one night in a railroad waiting room.

See Much Ruins

Looking from a train window traveling from Paris to Rome I noticed many ruins and damage of the last war. It was not pleasant to see. Women were pushing wheelbarrows and others carrying baskets on their heads, or washing clothes in rivers and creeks. Life for these unfortunate people is miserable. Water was scarce in some parts of the country, as there had been no rain for three months.

Italian prices are sky-rocketing, and it costs more to live than what a person earns. Wages for the average working man run from 700 to 1200 lire a day or about one to two dollars in American money. A loaf of bread costs about 90 lire. Coffee is seldom seen in homes, as it's priced at 200 lire for a kilo, which is about two pounds and two dollars in our money. Very little meat is eaten as people simply can't afford it. Work is hard to find, and jobs are not steady. The white collar man makes from 30,000 to 40,000 lire a month, and some as high as 50,000, which amounts to about $75 to $115 in American money.

Quota Small

Italy has a population of 45,000,000 people and it's considered very much over-populated. Work is not enough for all of them. They need work, more room, more land. They also need clothes, shoes and food. There are millions who would like to come to the United States, but the annual quota is so small that their heart's desire to live in America is fading out.

One hundred and five daily papers are published in Italy, and 26 of these are published in Rome. Most of these are political and very often of four pages, otherwise of two pages. You pay 15 to 20 lire for one of them. Newspapers are traded among the people, something like our American boys trade comic books.

People seem happy so long as they have bread, which is some times six days old. This they try to soften with water or tomato juice. After a few weeks in Italy I ran out of cigarettes, so I bought some American cigarettes manufactured in Italy. Three hundred lire for a package, or equal to 80 cents in American money. Italians love American cigarettes, but can't afford them. Many Italians smoke only half a cigarette at a time.

Italy has great faith in American support. The Marshall Plan has kept the Communists down to about 30 per cent of the population, but still on the faces of the other 70 per cent there is always the look of fear.

Coming back from Florence to Pisa I was lucky to get a seat on the train. From Rome to Paris I stood for 21 hours. Florence was the cleanest with its narrow main streets. It is visited by more tourists than any other city. The island of Capri was the most beautiful spot, and Naples was the noisiest. I stopped in Paris a few days, and things are higher there than in Italy.

It took four days, 17 hours and six minutes to come on the Queen Elizabeth from Cherbourg, France, to New York City. How good it feels to be back with my friends once again. Italy is beautiful but America is the best country in the world. We can thank God that we are American and live in America, but for the sake of humanity, let's not forget the people across the ocean.

FUGITIVE CAPTURED

Rose Ave. Pupils Enjoy Halloween Parade At School

Primary Grades Stage Halloween
Parade Throughout School;
Treats Given

Spooks, witches, and goblins of all kinds were on the loose today at the Rose Avenue school. Children of the first, second, and third grades staged a halloween parade in the school building this afternoon at 2:30. Each room of the school had been decorated with cats, corn stalks, and pumpkins for the event.

The youngsters began the parade in the school gym and then proceeded to parade around the upper grades. This gave the students of the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades an opportunity to view the costumes. Back to the gym the characters paraded, and games were then played by the group. Teachers of the school furnished treats for all the grades.

Those in charge of the party arrangements were Miss Atwell, Miss Shaffer, Miss Smith, Miss Lutton, Miss Gallagher, and Miss Blucher.

From Blaze In Neshannock
Township

Neshannock township Volunteer Fire department was called on to fight a difficult blaze in the home of Mrs. M. Kate Withers, of the Wilmington road, just north of the city, early Thursday afternoon, which caused a loss of around $1,000.

The fire is believed to have started from electric wiring, and the township firemen did a splendid job in preventing a more serious blaze. For a time, it looked as if the blaze might get away from them, and New Castle firemen were asked to send help. Acting Chief N. A. McFarland and the B truck from Central station being dispatched to the scene. Their services were not needed however, and they returned to the city.

Neshannock firemen were fighting a brush and grass fire on Nesbitt road, when the alarm was sounded, and only one truck was available, which necessitated the call for assistance, it was stated.

Ward Resident Back From Denver Visit

Mrs. G. G. Hogchler Visits Brother, Enjoys Scenery By Land And In Plane

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Hogchler of Cottage Grove entertained at a family dinner recently in honor of their mother, Mrs. G. G. Hogchler, of 106 East Cherry street, who has returned from a month's visit with her brother, C. H. Belknap, pharmacist, and family of Denver, Colo., her first visit in 16 years.

Mrs. Hogchler also visited with Mr. and Mrs. E. C. McCain and mother, Mrs. J. T. Gains, of Denver. Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Bishop of Wheatridge, Colo., and Mr. and Mrs. S. Whitmore of Littleton, Colo., who entertained at a luncheon dinner on Mr. Belknap's birthday anniversary. Showing of pictures, reminiscing and music of yesterday were the diversions of the event. Mr. Belknap and Mrs. Hogchler sang together years ago.

Mrs. Hogchler visited many places of interest in the colorful state, including "Park of the Red Rocks," a great area of fantastic red stone formations carved into weird shapes by erosion, "The Natural Amphitheater," "The Garden of the Gods" and "Will Rogers Shrine" in the Pike's Peak region.

Having enjoyed the beauty of the colorful terrain from the air by day (especially Boys Town in Nebraska) on the flight to Denver. The flight home was still more beautiful, while flying north of Chicago just after nightfall and descending from a sea of rolling white clouds in the higher altitude to a lower, Chicago reminded a person of a miniature Christmas yard with lights and all the trimmings and Lake Michigan in the background.

The weather was ideal Indian summer until the day before leaving, when Denver was blanketed with her first snow of the season. The change of scenery was still beautiful, yet, upon arriving home seven hours later New Castle was a lovely sight too.

Whitmore of Littleton, Colo., who entertained at a luncheon dinner on Mr. Belknap's birthday anniversary. Showing of pictures, reminiscing and music of yesterday were the diversions of the event. Mr. Belknap and Mrs. Hogchler sang together years ago.

Mrs. Hogchler visited many places of interest in the colorful state, including "Park of the Red Rocks," a great area of fantastic red stone formations carved into weird shapes by erosion, "The Natural Amphitheater," "The Garden of the Gods" and "Will Rogers Shrine" in the Pike's Peak region.

Having enjoyed the beauty of the colorful terrain from the air by day (especially Boys Town in Nebraska) on the flight to Denver. The flight home was still more beautiful, while flying north of Chicago just after nightfall and descending from a sea of rolling white clouds in the higher altitude to a lower, Chicago reminded a person of a miniature Christmas yard with lights and all the trimmings and Lake Michigan in the background.

The weather was ideal Indian summer until the day before leaving, when Denver was blanketed with her first snow of the season. The change of scenery was still beautiful, yet, upon arriving home seven hours later New Castle was a lovely sight too.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Hogchler of Cottage Grove entertained at a family dinner recently in honor of their mother, Mrs. G. G. Hogchler, of 106 East Cherry street, who has returned from a month's visit with her brother, C. H. Belknap, pharmacist, and family of Denver, Colo., her first visit in 16 years.

Mrs. Hogchler also visited with Mr. and Mrs. E. C. McCain and mother, Mrs. J. T. Gains, of Denver. Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Bishop of Wheatridge, Colo., and Mr. and Mrs. S. Whitmore of Littleton, Colo., who entertained at a luncheon dinner on Mr. Belknap's birthday anniversary. Showing of pictures, reminiscing and music of yesterday were the diversions of the event. One feature of the plan calls for Britains to pay one shilling (14 cents) for every medical prescription under the National Health Service. Formerly, all prescriptions were free. The entire health program is supported by taxes.

Following two days of acrimonious debate in Commons, the MP's defeated a Conservative amendment denouncing Attlee's plan, by a vote of 353 to 222. The negative vote was the largest yet recorded against the Laborites, who have been in power since 1945.

Body Of Hero Arrives Today In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Three Allegheny county congressional medal of honor winners today greeted a fellow hero as his flag-draped coffin arrived in Pittsburgh.

Honoring Pfc. Donald R. Lobaugh, who received the nation's highest decoration for killing a dozen Japs in New Guinea as his trapped platoon could withdraw safely, were Charles (Commando) Kelly and Leonard Funk of World War II, and Sterling Moreack of World War I.

The body of Pfc. Samuel Daitalo, a fellow Freeport youth who gave his life the same day, was also returned. Both received a 12-man military escort to Freeport for funeral services and burial.

Mrs. Ida Lobaugh accepted the nation's highest honor for her son four years ago.

Donald was one of 11 children, and entered the infantry in 1942.

The Erie Triangle, the extreme northwest portion of the state, wasn't originally part of Pennsylvania. It was claimed by three other states, but they decided it to the United States government which sold it to Pennsylvania for 75 cents an acre, to give the state a good port on the Great Lakes.

TUBELESS TIRE "TAKES IT"

This picture demonstrates how the new puncture-sealing tubeless tire, now on sale in this area for the first time, can "take it"—and not breathe a sigh. In this destructive spike-board test one spike, underneath, has completely pierced the tire and another, right, is about half way through. But air does not leak out of the tire. A gummy inner layer of special rubber which "surrounds" the piercing objects, then closes the hole when they are withdrawn, gives the new tire its self-sealing ability.

Assailant Of Woman Sought

Police Seek Man Who Made Attack On Woman In West State St. Area

City Detective John Moore today was seeking a negro who beat and criminally assaulted a 66-year-old woman in a West State street vacant lot shortly before 9 o'clock last night. She is in the Jameson Memorial hospital.

According to report to the police she was walking, enroute to her home, when the man, brandishing an open knife, seized her, exclaiming:

"Give me your money, or I'll kill you!"

The frightened woman replied she had no money. He wrestled her to the ground, kicked the woman on the upper lip, then dragged her by the hair and arms, into a clump of bushes on the vacant lot where he accomplished his vicious purpose, police reported. Her screams brought no help. "I suppose you will call police," he snarled as he left hurriedly in the direction of Grant street.

The woman, hysterical, struggled to her home where she told of what had occurred and police were notified.

Lieutenant Jones with Police-men Sigler, H. L. Richards and Weiss combed the vacant lot, and district.

A pen knife, man's hat and $8.51 were found at the scene of the outrage.

The woman described her assailant as about 5 feet 9 inches, medium build. She said he wore a coat suit.

Supreme Court Upholds Lamoree

Non-Suit Declared By Judge John G. Lamoree Held Good By The State Body

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

Judge John G. Lamoree has been upheld by the Pennsylvania State Supreme Court in a compulsory non-suit granted him.

The case was that of Michael W. Ritter against Nels Olson. On September 14, 1946, Mr. Ritter drove his car into a driveway maintained by Mr. Olson in Shenango township.

Mr. Olson had placed ashes on the driveway to aid traction but they had not been spread at the time Mr. Ritter drove in. He could not get through and got out of his car in an attempt to extricate the car.

In some manner the car slipped back on him injuring him severely. He sued for damages but the case was non-suited. Mr. Ritter appealed the non-suit but it has been upheld by the Supreme Court. The court held that Mr. Ritter is barred from recovering damages in this case.

Deaf Man Hunting Wife—By Air Mail

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 28.—(INS)—A Petersburg, Ind., man was shopping for a wife in Martinsburg Thursday — via air-mail.

The wife-hunter is C. W. Harbison, who says he is employed in the Petersburg city hall.

He wrote to Martinsburg post-office authorities, stating:

"I would like a 40 or 45-year old deaf woman for me—divorced, unmarried or widow."

A second letter revised the age downward to "35 or 45", postoffice officials said, and eased up on the other qualification to the extent that the candidate need only be hard-of-hearing.

Harbison wrote:

"I am a deaf man working in city hall. I need a wife. I can take care of her children. If the deaf woman is very poor I will help pay bus or train fare. I will find 35 or 40-year-old deaf woman for me. I will write her soon. I am very lonely with nobody to talk to. I will get marriage license soon."

DALLAS, TEXAS—What was once a two-story four apartment unit of a Dallas Federal Housing Project, lies almost level with the ground following an explosion. 14 persons were injured, one seriously, when a reported gas leak blew up. ## Wheeling Mayor Amazed At Low Rate Of Arrests

Says He's Seen More Speeders In One Day Than 74 Police-men In Month

WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 28.—(INS)—Wheeling Mayor Carl G. Bachmann slumped back in his chair, scratched his head, and said it was amazing.

Either the police are lax, or Wheeling is the cleanest city in the country.

Looking over the September report, Bachmann said there were no arrests for gambling, prostitution, loitering and numerous other offenses.

He said two panhandlers had been arrested during the month, and that he personally had been accosted many times a day during the period, by persons who had the appearance of huns.

He said he had seen "more speeders in a day than the 74 policemen in the city had arrested during September."

Police Chief W. R. Kennedy had no comment.

Over 500,000 Vets Owe Country Money

Most Of Amount Constitutes Overpayment Of Subsistence Allowances

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—(INS)—The Veterans Administration said Thursday that more than 500,000 ex-GI's who owe the government money may find it deducted from forthcoming National Service

Life Insurance special dividend payments. The agency estimated that up to 30 million dollars of such debts may be collected from the two billion 800 million dollar dividend "melon" to be cut up in January for 16 million veterans. The VA said that more than half a million veterans currently are indebted to the government for a total of about 70 million dollars. Most of this amount constitutes overpayments of subsistence allowance for veterans taking educational courses or training under the GI bill. Other types of indebtedness are overpayments of pensions, compensation or readjustment allowances, and losses made good to lenders on defaulted GI loans. The VA said that a considerable number of veterans now are repaying indebtedness by having deductions made from their monthly subsistence checks. Officials added that when the overpayment is wiped out, as it may be by the dividend deduction, there will be no further monthly withholding. The Pacific states contribute about 13 million pounds of oyster meats, or about 17 per cent of the total production.

SUGGESTED EASY MEALS FOR BUSY FALL DAYS

Family meals during busy fall days should be simple and easy to prepare. It is a good time to plan simple oven meals that can cook while you are working outside.

Vegetables, such as squash, pumpkin and sweet potatoes are at their best right now. Why not make a list of your favorite meals, using some of these vegetables, that can be baked in the oven? It may take you a few minutes to write them down but the time will be well spent.

A simple easy menu for an oven meal is: baked ham slice, baked sweet potatoes, buttered green beans (canned or frozen), tossed vegetable salad, whole wheat bread, butter, apple crisp, coffee, milk.

The ham and sweet potatoes require about one and a quarter hours baking time at 350 degrees Fahrenheit. Apple crisp will bake in 45 minutes at the same temperature. The entire meal may be prepared ahead of time and kept in the refrigerator until baking time.

The beans and salad need a very short cooking time and will be the last foods to prepare.

BUY SOAPS OR DETERGENT BEST SUITED TO NEEDS

With the wide variety of soaps and synthetic detergents on the market today, homemakers should know which ones are best for their laundering.

Mild soaps, powders and flakes, so satisfactory for fine fabrics and easy on the hands, may not get work clothes so clean as a stronger soap product. The soap which keeps white cottons white may fade colored clothes and shrink or harden wools and silks. Soaps that do a good cleaning job in soft water may not do so well in hard water.

Prime Minister Attlee Assailed

Accused Of "Alice In Wonderland Complex" In Debate In Commons Today

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Prime Minister Attlee was assailed of "an Alice in Wonderland complex" Thursday afternoon when debate was resumed in the House of Commons on the Labor government's economy program.

Sir John Anderson, Conservative, said that devaluation of the pound has "not an inspired solution" of Britain's problems "but a tragic necessity resulting from four years of mismanagement."

Anderson said that Attlee's "Alice" complex is "terrifying and unrealistic" and charged that the Labor regime is "constantly misleading" the public. He said that "much larger" economies than those outlined are needed.

Britain's economic plight had further repercussions on the stock exchange, where government and gilt-edged securities slumped to new record lows before staging a partial recovery at the close.

Brokers described liquidation as widespread and based on a lack of confidence in the government's ability to overcome recurrent financial crises. Today's loss in values was estimated at $64 million.

Despite the stock market weakness and Conservative attacks, the Labor government is expected to weather four confidence votes in the House before the day is over.

GROW HEIFERS WELL

The dairy heifers of today are the cows of tomorrow. For that reason, Joe S. Taylor, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, urges good care and feeding of these young animals. They need good living quarters and plenty of palatable feed containing essential vitamins and minerals.

LAYERS NEED NESTS

One nest for every three to five hens is suggested by extension poultry specialists of the Pennsylvania State college. Without enough space, there will be more floor-laid eggs, broken and soiled eggs, and considerable fighting at the nests. Even cannibalism and egg-eating may develop.

CARELESS MAN

"I have been dating a boy who is really admirable in every way except one—he is careless about his appearance. He waits too long between hair cuts, sometimes, his hair nearly overlaps his collar, and his suits are too long away from his tailor. He is very clean but not neat and well-groomed. Do you think I should tell him or simply cease making dates with him?"

Answer: If you tell him frankly and with no diplomacy that he needs a haircut and to have his clothes pressed, he will probably drop you like a hot potato and never return again. Every man likes to be flattered and coaxed and loathes hearing the awful truth about himself. So if you are different to his attentions and don't care whether you see him again, tell him of his great sartorial faults. In so doing, you will really confer a great favor on him, for although he will be furious at you he will at last wake up to his deficiencies and perhaps do something about them.

Almost all men need to be prodded from boyhood to be neat and evidently this poor lad did not have the advantage of a good prodder in his early youth. Not only cleanliness, but neatness as well, is essential to success in both business and social life.

If you do not want to hurt his feelings and yet do something to make him aware of his faulty appearance, say to him facetiously: "Would you like me to buy a violin or call a barber?" Later, remind him of his unpressed suit perhaps in the rain. "Were you caught in the rain, Bill?"

Also mention to him men of your acquaintance who are well-groomed, saying something to this effect: "Bob isn't very good looking but he is very neat and well-groomed." In other words, subtly try to humiliate him into improving his appearance. It can be done—diplomatically!

Present your problems to Miss Martel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

Survivors Of Plane Victims File Suits

Damage Claims Placed Against Reading Aviation Service Ind., In Court

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Survivors of two of the persons killed in the crash of a passenger plane last April 6 near Germantown, Pa., filed damage claims totaling $209,043.73 against the Reading Aviation Service, Inc., of Reading, owner of the plane, in U. S. District Court here today.

The two victims were Bernard R. Keeney, 29, president of the Rajah Theatre Co., Inc., 136 North 6th street, Reading, and Mrs. Arlene S. Bleckie, 32, 307 Hollenbach street, Reading.

In one of two suits, Keeney's widow, Olga A., of 116 Mayer avenue, Pennside, near Reading, filed claim for $100,975 on behalf of herself and her two children, Bernard B., and Dorothy L.

In the other, Mrs. Bleckie's husband, Frank J., filed a three part claim, totaling $108,068.73 on behalf of himself and his six-year-old son, Kenneth C., who accompanied his mother on the flight from Utica, N. Y., to Reading, and was himself seriously injured in the accident.

The charge is made in both claims that the crash which occurred shortly after 2 a. m., on April 6 last was due to the "carelessness and negligence" of the pilot, Francis Hostetter.

Present Warrant For 'Triggerman' To Luzerne County

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Oct. 28.—(INS)—A warrant for the extradition of a fugitive reported to be a onetime "ace triggerman" for Brooklyn's "Infamous Murder, Inc." was presented Thursday to Luzerne county authorities.

The warrant asks the return to New York of Jack Parisi, 49, sought by police for more than a decade to answer charge stemming from the slaying of a union official and a music publisher.

Attorneys for Parisi, nabbed two weeks ago in a Hazleton hideout will argue their plea for a writ of habeas corpus Friday before Judge Thomas Lewis.

Parisi disappeared from his New York haunts after the shootings of Morris Diamond, a union official, and Broadway publisher William Penn.

Ford Rouge Plant Votes For Pensions

UAW-CIO Officially Accepts Pension Plan After Four To One Majority Vote

DETROIT, Oct. 28.—(INS)—The $100-a-month Ford Motor Co. pension plan was officially accepted by the UAW-CIO Thursday after workers at the giant Rouge plant voted their approval by a more than four-to-one majority.

The union announced the Rouge vote was 32,292 for and 7,310 against the new contract embodying the first company-financed pensions in heavy industry.

A small percentage of the 115,000 Ford workers covered by the contract he not yet cast their ballots, but the vote at Rouge Local 600, largest in the UAW furnished the majority necessary for ratification. Local 600 President Tommy Thompson predicted that "pensions for other industrial workers now will follow as a matter of course."

Diet Or Workhouse For Mt. Vernon Man

MOUNT VERNON, O., Oct. 28.—(INS)—Melvin Bross is looking for a good diet so he can escape eight months in the Mount Vernon workhouse.

Judge Robert J. Crossman sentenced the 20-year-old 290-pound Bross for contributing to the delinquency of four minors, after he led the children on a cornshock-upsetting foray on a farm near Amity, Pa.

Judge Crossman said he'd forget the sentence if Bross would serve two years in the army. Recruiting officers said they would take him if he weighed 50-pounds less.

So, Judge Crossman gave him a month to start the diet, and another month to get rid of the excess weight.

CANDIDATES FOR HIGH OFFICE SHOULD PRESENT THE TRUTH

There is no justification for a candidate for the high office of District Attorney presenting anything but the truth in his advertising.

One might expect a longshoreman political worker to twist the truth, to present half truths and elaborate upon them. But a candidate for district attorney should be above that.

Mister Levine, the Democratic candidate for district attorney has seen fit to present half truths, to pick out certain things and present them without showing relative facts that are a part of them.

Mister Levine is a "good lawyer" by his own admission, although further evidence to that contention is yet to be heard.

While he is a candidate for district attorney he "plays the field". His statements about city and county retirement plans are filled with half truths, are misleading and seem to be more the actions of a pettifogger than a "good lawyer".

He says the City of New Castle could have had a retirement plan since 1927. That act was so unacceptable that only 8 cities in the entire state adopted it. The Act of 1945 provides for retirement plans based upon a sound actuarial basis and 21 cities have adopted it. Some of the councils adopting it were Republican, some Democrat.

Mister Levine uses D. O. Davies as a "horrible example". Mr. Davies served the City of New Castle twenty years by the vote of the people, at a salary below what many men made by manual labor.

Mister Levine tells you that "if Mr. Davies is sixty years of age, his pension will cost $25,095." Mr. Davies is 71 years of age his life expectancy is 8.52 years and upon this expectancy, payments might amount to $14,053 which is $11,000 less than Mister Levine quotes. Mr. Davies has not yet received any retirement money, nor will he until 1950.

Thus far, the city has contributed $37,219.23 and the employees, elected and appointed have contributed $21,253.20. There are 152 employees in the retirement plan of which only 7 are elected, or about 1 elected to 20 appointed officials.

Mister Levine also takes up the county retirement plan. Here again is a retirement plan to which employees and the county contribute. The county retirement plan was put into effect by the votes of two of the county commissioners. Wimer, Republican and Travers, Democrat, who moved the adoption of the resolution. If Mister Levine presumes to speak for the entire Democratic party, and his ads and actions indicate just that, does he suggest that Commissioner Travers is under the mystic spell of some insidious "machine" about which Mr. Levine speaks so glibly and so indefinitely?

In the city retirement plan the employees must have served not less than 12 years and cannot be paid until they reach sixty. In the county plan an employee cannot draw retirement until he reaches 65.

Mister Levine has appeared as attorney for the C. I. O. at various times, a labor organization which has been waging a fight for pensions for men and women in industry when they reach 65.

Pensions or retirement funds for workers have become a part of our national political philosophy. Government workers of all kinds have not the protection of social security. If a man or woman has been selected by the people to serve in an elected capacity for many years and reaches retirement age, what does Mister Levine suggest? An embossed scroll or three rousing cheers for their faithful service at salaries that do not compare with many workers in private industry? And then poverty?

Presidents of the United States are pensioned, their widows are pensioned, judges have retirement plans, state and Federal employees have retirement plans, policemen and firemen have had a pension plan for years.

But Mister Levine, this "Apostle of Confusion and Double Talk" seems to want to draw some vicious conclusions from retirement funds which have been set up for city and county employees, elected or appointed.

A good lawyer, which Mister Levine says he is, takes pride in presenting his case truthfully, factually and clearly. Double talk, half truths, evasions, insinuations and aspersions are no part of a good lawyer's presentation.

Declares Russia Bent On Securing World Domination

Paul G. Hoffman's Speech Is Presented To Canadian Chamber Of Commerce

MONTREAL, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Economic Cooperation Administrator Paul G. Hoffman blasted Russia's leaders Thursday as "Red Fascists" seeking world domination rather than world Communism.

Hoffman, in a fighting speech prepared for delivery before the Canadian Chamber of Commerce asserted that only a strong and united west could defeat "the evil of this Red terror."

He said that the 18-month-old Marshall Plan was ahead of schedule in western Europe, whose production is now greater than it was before the war. Western European recovery, Hoffman asserted, has stopped "the power drive of the Kremlin" but the halt will be only temporary if the democratic countries cannot attain complete economic self-sufficiency.

Hoffman said this attainment is the present purpose of the Economic Cooperation Administration and that Canada and the United States must continue the Marshall Plan until trade balances even up "when Europe is a cash-on-the-barrelhead purchaser and we are in the business of selling—not giving."

The ECA chief also warned against the danger of slowing or stopping the Marshall Plan. He said:

"If aid to Europe were halted to undo all the accomplishments now, it would not take six months of the past year and a half."

PLANT BULBS NOW.

Now and up to December 15 is the time to plant early spring bulbs.

When planting bulbs care must be used as to get them deep enough in the ground. Bulbs should be planted to a depth of three times their diameter. After they are in the ground they should be covered with a layer of leaves or straw.

If you want potted bulbs they should be planted and left in the ground and covered until frost so as to become rooted then they can be brought in and will grow and bloom indoors.

One of the ideal tulips to plant is the candy-stick tulip. They grow about 12 inches high and for successful growth should be planted six inches deep and six inches apart. This charming little tulip belongs in every garden and it is very hardy. The parrot tulip is very attractive too. It has a feathery edge.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Can Parents Grow Up?

Sometimes even grownups have parent problems! Lately, I've been struck by how many men and women in their middle thirties are worried about their parents' attitudes and behavior. Here's a school-teacher who has been on her own for 10 years or more. But when she visits home, mother and father push her back into a little girl's role. She is told what to wear, when to come home at night and what she should eat. Many a G.I. returning from having done a man's work in the war was treated as though he were an irresponsible eight- or nine-year-old boy.

Somewhat or other a lot of us parents find it hard to accept the fact that our adult children have really grown up. We haven't respect for their opinions. We feel that they should follow our advice without question. We can't talk to them as grownup to grownup.

There may be many reasons why parents cling to their parental role. More and more in the United States, though, grown children are "fed up" with being treated as little children. They avoid returning to the family home. This fact plus the satisfactions that come from being grown up with our adult children should push us to build a different sort of relationship. Being equals—respecting our children's maturity—will guarantee the continuation of a friendly understanding relationship. It's well worth the try!

Biological And Chemical Warfare Believed Possible

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Maj. Gen. Anthony McAuliffe believes today that it is "certainly a possibility" that biological and chemical warfare will be used if another world conflict breaks out.

McAuliffe, just returned from Japan, held a news conference as he succeeded Maj. Gen. Alden H. Waitt as head of the army's chemical warfare section. Waitt retired after figuring in the Congressional "five percenter" hearings.

McAuliffe described as "tommyrot" reports that germ warfare might be "more effective than the atomic bomb."

He said, however, that in Russia the United States faces "a ruthless potential enemy" which can be expected to use "anything it can get hold of" in case of war.

McAuliffe said "war is getting dirtier." He cited the disregard of women and children and said an enemy which kills women and children indiscriminately should not be expected to hesitate in using poison gas.

He said he did not think the United States would use gas or germs unless they were used by an enemy.

BANDIT RETURNS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—(INS)—It took nine months, but an armed bandit today got five times the $320 he missed last March at a Washington grocery store.

Owner Paul Brick told police that the gunman took loot valued at $1,760 during an evening rush hour holdup.

Brick said he was the same man who overlooked a roll of cash in his pocket last March 19.

Firemen Battle Blaze Thursday In Wampum Area

Game Reserve Forest And Brush Fire Extinguished After Strenuous Effort

Wampum and New Galilee firemen were called to the game reserve on the New Galilee-Wampum road, about two miles from Wampum, on Thursday afternoon, to battle a forest and brush fire that had gained a start.

In addition to the firemen, many farmers from the area also gathered and aided in the battle to extinguish the blaze.

A considerable area was burned over, but the firemen and aides succeeded in preventing the fire reaching the Sherlock home and barn, which were threatened by the blaze.

Dr. J. L. Plimpton, inventor of the roller skate, made $1,000,000 from his patent.

Active Week At Ben Franklin

Halloween Play Featured At Assembly; Pep Rally Held By Students Today

Many varied activities have kept the students of the Benjamin Franklin Junior High school quite busy during the past week.

On Thursday, a Halloween play was witnessed by the students at an assembly program. The name itself, "Ghost In The House," was enough to set the chills up one's spine. Those taking parts in the drama were Raymond Jones, Bill Kulnis, Barbara Daugherty, Santina Canfora, Norma Farris, Charles Nassif, and Lawrence Conti. The prologue was read by Anthony Frasso, and the play was directed by Marion Campbell. Costuming was under the direction of Mrs. Mary Massee.

Today at 3:15 a pep assembly was held in the auditorium. Franklin will play George Washington on Saturday evening, October 29. Franklin cheerleaders were in charge of the program under the direction of Miss Sigler. Pupils in the ninth grade civics classes were shown a film on "How We Elect Our Representatives." This picture depicts the American way of voting, and proved to be interesting to the students.

Man Convicted On Hit And Run Charge

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Wilbur B. Noel, a prominent insurance executive of suburban Mt.

Lebanon, stood convicted today of involuntary manslaughter in connection with the hit-run death of a woman nearly a year ago.

A jury returned a guilty verdict yesterday after only a few minutes deliberation. Sentence was delayed after counsel for the 49-year-old defendant asked for a new trial.

Noel claimed he was not driving the car that struck down Mrs. Rachael Bernhardt of suburban Dormont.

He testified that someone else had stolen the car from his driveway.

WHY does the costly steel strike continue?

The costly and unnecessary steel strike is now in its fourth week. The country at large is beginning to feel its disastrous effects. Employees and employers have already suffered serious financial losses. The situation will grow worse if the strike continues.

This strike was ordered by Philip Murray, President of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO). He and his Union must accept full responsibility for the strike and its damaging consequences. United States Steel did not want a strike and tried hard to prevent it.

More than three weeks have elapsed, and no proposal of any kind has been made to us by the Union for a settlement of the strike. On the contrary, the Union stubbornly adheres to its original ultimatum that we must agree in advance to pay the entire cost of insurance and pensions for our employees. That is the only issue. Unconditional surrender by us to this ultimatum is the price which the Union demands to call off its strike.

In an endeavor to negotiate with the Union a sound and fair program of insurance and pensions, United States Steel offered to pay up to 10c an hour per employee (more than $50,000,000 a year) toward the cost of insurance and pension benefits, the employees to make some additional contribution. This 10c was the amount which the Presidential Fact-Finding Board recommended we should pay. Our offer was flatly refused by the Union. It insists that we must pay the entire cost of such insurance and pensions.

The insurance program proposed by United States Steel would provide greater welfare benefits for our employees at less cost than our average employee is today paying under existing insurance and welfare plans. Therefore, our proposed insurance program will not reduce his take-home pay.

We have had long experience with an employee-pay-nothing (non-contributory) pension plan. We found it necessary to adopt a contributory pension plan ten years ago. More than 60,000 of our employees today participate in this contributory plan.

Contributory Social Security Has These Advantages:

1. Larger insurance benefits and pensions are provided
When the employee and the company both contribute, the large contributions permit better social security benefits.

2. A contributory plan is safer
Company pay-all plans are uncertain. There may some day be no money or no company. Employees suffer, if the plan fails.

Furthermore, the contributing employee has a direct interest in the success of the plan. He will then strive to keep the plan financially sound and within proper bounds.

3. Contributory plans provide savings for employees
The employees' contributions go into a fund, along with the company's contribution. In effect, it is a savings account for the employee's own welfare. Under the usual contributory pension plan, if the employee dies before retirement, his family gets his pension contributions with interest. If he quits, he gets them back, with interest.

Under a contributory plan, an employee always has something saved up for his protection. Putting aside savings is not a wage reduction.

4. Today's work provides tomorrow's welfare benefits

Under a contributory plan both the company and the employee lay aside something for the employee's future welfare and security. It is not the American way to ask for hand-outs or something for nothing.

5. A contributory plan is a voluntary plan

A contributory plan ordinarily gives the employee a choice. He can take it or leave it. The inducement to join the contributory plan is two-fold. The employee is paying some of his own money for his protection and for his old age, and, if he is willing to do that, the company will more than match all he puts up in order to give him greater benefits.

Many People Know . . .

- That Federal Social Security is contributory.
- That the U. S. Government and most States have contributory pension plans.
- That many cities (including New York City) have contributory pension plans.
- That railroad pensions are contributory.
- That the majority of plans in American business are contributory.

But Few People Realize . . .

- That many of our employees tell us in letters that they want to contribute to a sound insurance and pension plan.

- That Philip Murray approved contributions by employees when he advised the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives in Washington on April 12, 1949:

"As to financing, our members have been willing to pay their due share of the cost of social insurance."

- That the House Ways and Means Committee in August 1949 reported to Congress:

"The time has come to reaffirm the basic principle that a contributory system of social insurance in which workers share directly in meeting the cost of the protection afforded is the most satisfactory way of preventing dependency."

- That our employees have already lost more pay in this strike than their contributions toward a contributory insurance and pension fund would total in a whole year.

- That this is not a popular strike with many of our employees.

- That the real explanation of the steel strike is rivalry between labor union leaders — a desire by one labor union monopolist to outdo another.

Union politics are not a just or sufficient cause for the present steel strike — costly to the public, the employees, and the steel companies alike.

OUR POSITION: United States Steel favors a proper and financially sound program of insurance and pensions for its employees. We welcome an opportunity to negotiate a program of this character with the union. As evidence of our sincerity, we have made an offer to the Union to pay more the $50,000,000 a year as our share of the cost.

To Face Federal Court

Glenn Lambert, 19, Wichita Falls, Tex., arrested here by Patrolman Kevin Goodman Wednesday night on a charge of passing counterfeit $20 bills, was taken to Pittsburgh by secret service agents late Thursday to face the charge in U. S. court.

Jerry Gross, 23, Youngstown, arrested there yesterday by Detective John G. Moore, Lieut. George S. Kennedy and Youngstown detectives for possession of counterfeit money, was held there today pending placing of a formal charge.

Their arrests grew out of the discovery by Mrs. Dorothy Hill, cashier of the Victor theater, that Lambert had given her a $20 counterfeit bill for a ticket. She notified Assistant Manager Thomas S. Robinson.

Robinson followed Lambert, pointing him out to Goodman, and the arrest followed.

Police report Lambert passed counterfeit $20 bills at not only the Victor, but also the Regent, Paramount and Penn theaters.

Quizzing of Lambert by Lieutenants Jones and Suber and other police developed he had gotten the money in Youngstown. Yesterday morning Acting Police Chief Willis G. McMullen took charge of the case and sent Moore and Kennedy to Youngstown. With two Youngstown detectives they found Gross in his Y. M. C. A. room. They claim they found a counterfeit $20 bill and a large amount of valid money on him.

Acting Chief McMullen, John Knott, U. S. secret service agent, and city detectives quizzed Lambert here.

The counterfeit money was passed in Buffalo, Erie, Oil City, Butler and Portersville, according to authorities.

The arrests may result in the smashing of a big counterfeit disposal ring, according to Acting Police Chief McMullen.

Acting Chief McMullen received word this afternoon that Youngstown detectives had apprehended one Robert Scott of Youngstown in connection with the passing of counterfeit bills here and elsewhere.

A fifth counterfeit bill was passed at Bailey's restaurant on Butler avenue, according to McMullen.

Gavilan-Felton Probe Ordered

Detroit Boxing Commissioner Not Satisfied With Decision That Went To Felton

DETROIT, Oct. 28.—(INS)—The Detroit police commissioner on Thursday said he had "heard rumors of a big betting coup" in the recent Kid Gavilan-Lester Felton fight and ordered a complete investigation.

The 20-year-old Felton, a 3-1 underdog, won a hotly disputed decision from the No. 1 welterweight contender though he back-peddled most of the bout.

Not Satisfied
Commissioner Harry S. Toy said he was not satisfied with the inquiry conducted by the state boxing commission, and wanted a further investigation to "clear the air."

Toy declared:
"I've heard rumors of a big betting coup of gamblers and of a fix, or tainted fight."
"We do not want 'fixed' fights in Detroit and we don't want rumors hanging around."

Boxing commissioner Floyd Stevens on Wednesday suspended referee Morris Sherman, judge Sammy Pearlstein, and two officials who gave Felton the decision.

Minnesota, Western Maryland, Michigan State, Syracuse, Army, Wisconsin and Virginia are listed on the 1950 Penn State boxing schedule announced today by H. R. Gilbert, graduated manager of athletics. The season will open January 14.

Grovers-Thiel Clash Saturday

GROVE CITY, Pa., Oct. 28.—Coach Jim Lovelless has had his squad hard at work this week in preparation for the invasion of Thiel this Saturday. The Tomcats will be out to avenge that 33 to 0 defeat handed them by the Grovers last year and have the manpower to upset the locals Saturday. In the game last year Thiel held the Wolverines even for two quarters until superior depth paid off and the Lovellessmen broke loose. Thiel has almost the identical team back this season plus several capable reserves which bodes no good for the Big Red.

Red Wings-Canadiens Are Tied For Lead

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(INS)—The Detroit Red Wings and Montreal Canadiens were tied for the National Hockey league lead today, thus setting up a perfect crowd lure for tomorrow night, when the clash with Montreal.

Gordie Howe, with a goal and an assist, led the Red Wings' 3-1 conquest of the tail-end Black Hawks at Chicago last night.

In the other game last night, the Canadiens and the Toronto Maple Leafs fought scorelessly until only a minute and 48 seconds remained. Then Fleming Mac Kell and Harry Watson rammed home a pair of goals to give Toronto a 2-0 shut-out victory.

QUARTET TO SING AT PLAINGROVE

Montgomery was tagged with the nickname, "Bobcat," because of the boring, slashing style which won him his lightweight crown from Beau Jack in 1943.

Store Managers Receive Promotions

Charles M. Bashew, right, welcomes Nelson A. Fleck, new manager of the local Sears' store to New Castle. Mr. Fleck is replacing Mr. Bashew who is to take over as manager of a store in New Brunswick, New Jersey.

Announcement is made today of a change in managers by Sears, Roebuck and Co., which will send Charles M. Bashew, who has been in charge of the local store for almost eight years, to New Brunswick, N. J. Mr. Bashew will be succeeded here by Nelson A. Fleck, who has been recently in charge of the McKeesport store of Sears.

Mr. Fleck has been with Sears, Roebuck and Co. for the past seventeen years, having served in Altoona, Ambridge, Erie, Binghamton, N. Y., and McKeesport. Curiously enough, it was while he was associated with Mr. Bashew, while the latter was manager of the Ambridge store, that Mr. Fleck was made an assistant manager.

Mr. Fleck has arrived here to take up his new duties and will assume charge on Monday, when Mr. Bashew goes to New Brunswick to take up his duties there.

The changes are promotions for both men. During Mr. Bashew's stay here, the store has seen quite an expansion program, having been enlarged and modernized.

The new manager has been successful in the operation of the McKeesport store, and will have a larger field here.

Advantages Of Making Will Are Discussed By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright—1949—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)
BABSON PARK, Mass., Oct. 28.—Too many people die without leaving a will. The result: financial tangles, family squabbles, lawsuits, and the disposition of the property entirely contrary to the wishes of the deceased.

Why Make A Will?
Some day each of us will die. Making a will can neither hasten nor retard death, but a properly drawn will, executed by a competent lawyer, may save post-mortem disputes and prevent the distribution of an estate contrary to the wishes of the testator.

For example, Roger W. Babson property belonging to an intestate estate usually cannot be sold without a license from the court. This costs money. A will saves this difficulty. The testator can direct exactly how his property is to be disposed. Every one, man or woman, who has real estate, bank accounts, securities, or a car should have a will and he should not wait until he is upon his death bed, either, to frame this important document.

Property Distribution Without A Will

Every state has laws concerning the disposition of property for those who are too lazy to make a will. Let us suppose you are married, your wife is living, and you have young children. You die, leaving a modest amount of property. You leave no will. In most states your wife is entitled to only one-third of your property; your children, whether you have one or a dozen, to the other two-thirds. Your wife must be appointed legal guardian which involves an appreciable expenditure from your children's share of the property. Your wife's share of the property may soon be exhausted trying to support the children. When your children come of age and receive their inheritance, they may not see fit to aid their mother. Thus your widow lives on "old age assistance" because you failed to spend $10-$25 and a half an hour with a lawyer.

We all know of situations where, without a will, property and especially real estate has passed along, by law, to children not on speaking terms with one another. One of the inheritors may wish to sell, rent or otherwise dispose of the property. The consent of other brothers and sisters who have a similar interest in the property cannot be obtained. The family squabble continues and all parties lose money via lawsuits. Or, consider the case when a man dies and leaves no children but other relatives. In Massachusetts, for example, if the estate is $10,000 or less, the wife gets all. If the estate totals more than $10,000, the wife gets the first $10,000 and only one-half the additional value of the estate. The long lost relatives get the rest! Wherever you live, the legal disposition of your estate may be contrary to your wishes.

Don't be foolish! I knew a thrifty Scot who said he would save ten dollars and a visit to his lawyer. He got a sample form of a will, copied it, but failed to have it witnessed by the proper number of witnesses required by his state to make the document legal. The probate court tossed it out and the old man's wishes went to the winds.

A friend of one of my business associates died the other day. She was a widow in her middle fifties. She had no children nor near kin. She left no will. She had talked to many about her estate and what she had her heart set on doing when the time came. Then she died. Her estate was divided up by law among all her first cousins.

It used to be the custom among English lawyers, at professional meetings, to offer the first toast to those who wrote their own wills! They know that carelessly written wills bring the lawyer lots of business.

Brown Speaks To Lions At Volant

Elmer Brown, member of the Volant Lions, spoke at their meeting following their dinner at the Volant Methodist church Tuesday evening. He discussed the present system of education, stressed the importance of the training of our youth, and also told of the purposes of Lionism.

Plans were discussed for the Ladies' Night which will be held November 22 in the church, with Paul Shaw, general chairman.

Harlansburg P.T.A. Has Clever Program

Teachers In Charge Of Evening Program: Show Various Means Of Visual Education

Members of the Harlansburg P. T. A. held their October meeting in the school building on October 20. President, Martha North, conducted a short business meeting. The members voted to hold a dinner to help finance the hot lunch program.

Grades three and four were awarded with special recreation time for having the highest number of parents present at the meeting.

Esther Eakin, music supervisor, presented a group of high school girls, who sang three selections. Two of the girls gave a clarinet duet.

"Supplementary Reading Work That Can Be Done in the Home by the Parents" was the theme of the program presented by the grade teachers. Mrs. Sarah Dambaugh, first grade teacher, began the series by pointing out the fact that a child is not ready for reading until he attains the age of six years, six months. Development of personality in the first grade is extremely vital to his future school years.

Reading Stressed

"Don't request that the child bring his class reader home for study," was the plea of Mrs. Bier, second grade teacher. "A child must not, above all, be permitted to become bored with his reading. If he is to be tutored at home, his class-work will become routine and uninteresting." Reading to children from selected children's books was recommended by Mrs. Bier.

Slides on "The Gingerbread Boy," illustrating the growing value of visual reading in the classroom, were shown by Miss Campbell, third and fourth grade teacher. Mr. Kiefer, librarian, concluded the talks with some very helpful suggestions on what our children should be reading. The Bible was mentioned along with sports magazines and various other magazines.

All of the foregoing talks were accompanied by illustrations which the teachers brought with them from their respective classrooms. The members are deeply grateful to the teachers for their splendid cooperation in presenting this most interesting program.

A social period followed adjournment of the meeting with refreshments being served by Ethel Harkless, Jean McCracken, Leona Flack, Helen Harrison and Mae Dickinson.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Ajax, the strong man of the circus, once appeared as guest of honor on Milton Berle's radio program. In rehearsal, he read his lines perfectly, but when the show actually went on the air, Ajax froze completely at the microphone and couldn't utter a syllable. Berle fed him a line twice, and when no answer was forthcoming, saved the situation by exclaiming, "How do you like that! The strongest man in the world—and he can't even pick up a cue!"

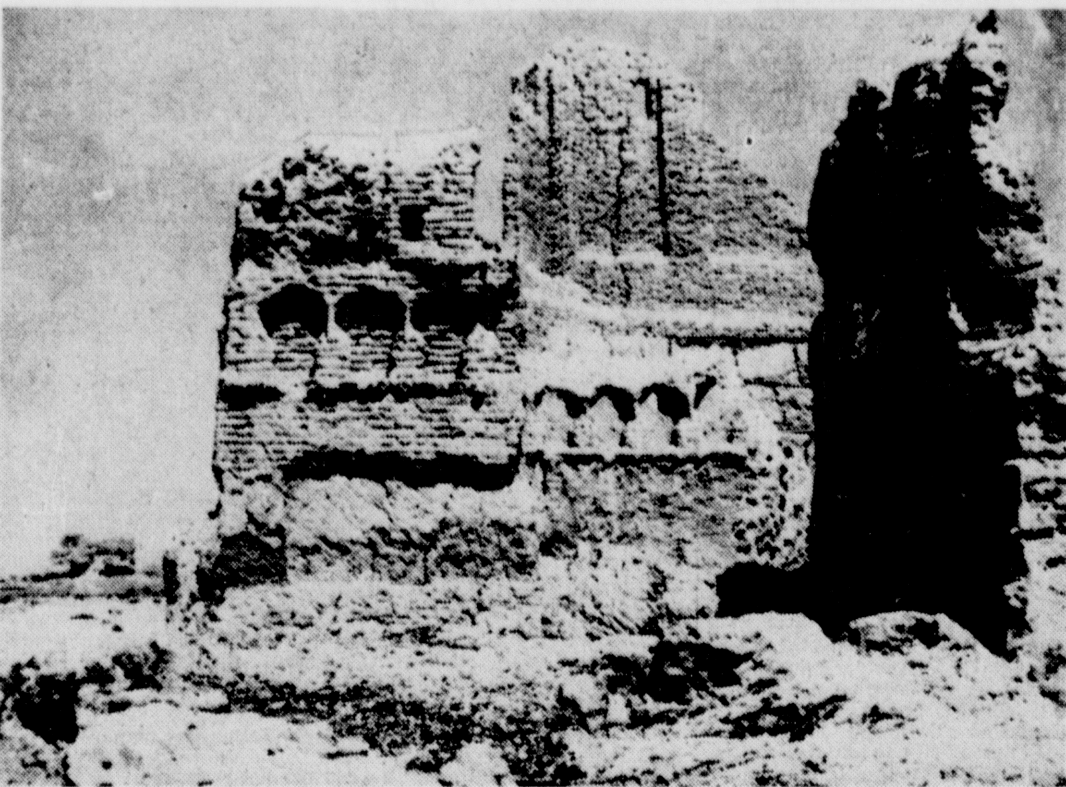

Ida Kay insists that this happened on a farm just outside Wilkesboro on Easter Sunday. A prankish youngster filled a chicken coop with eggs dyed every color of the rainbow. The rooster took one look at the dazzling display, ran straight out of the barn, and killed the peacock.

Mrs. Ray Washburn was sitting in her husband's sumptuous office when a beautiful, streamlined blonde undulated in. "I'm Mr. Washburn's wife," said Mrs. W. "That's nice," said the blonde. "I'm his secretary." "Oh," said Mrs. W., "were you?"

Lost City Found In Desert

AFGHANISTAN—This is part of an ancient "lost city" discovered in the desert of southwestern Afghanistan, one of the least known sections in the world. It is believed to be the once great city of Peshawarum, which reportedly had a population of 100,000 at the time of the crusades. This view was brought back by a scientist of the American Museum of Natural History.

Sammy Kulkun Will Be Bar Mitzvah

Sammy Gary Kulkun, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Kulkun of 308 E. Sheridan avenue, will become Bar Mitzvah on Saturday, October 29 at 9 a. m. at the Tifereth Israel Synagogue, South Jefferson street. Sammy will observe his confirmation with the prophetic reading of the prophets and will deliver a sermonette. Rev. Benjamin Miller and Rabbi Jules Lipschutz will address the confirmation at the exercises.

After the confirmation, a reception will be held at the Synagogue. Sessions House, a dormitory in Smith college, Northampton, Mass., is said to be haunted by the ghost of a British general who fell in love with the daughter of the house during the Revolutionary war.

Inspired Titans Will Give Geneva Tough Battle At Beaver Falls

Long Time Rivals To Tangle Saturday

(Special to The News)
BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Oct. 28.—Tomorrow is Homecoming Day at Geneva college and highlighting the activities will be the afternoon gridiron clash between Geneva and Westminster.

Slated to begin at 2 o'clock, the tilt will match the rampaging Covenanters, who have been beaten but once this season, against a team that has been able to register only one win thus far on the gridiron.

Titans As Spoilers

Season records fail to reveal the true strength of the Titans and Coach Mel Hetzler will invade Reeves Stadium all set to spoil another big day for the Genevans, just as W. & J. did last year.

However, the Covie gridders, piloted by Coaches Walt West and Cliff Aultman have other ideas.

Good Memories

Most of the Geneva gridders well remember last year's 33-0 Homecoming trouncing by W. & J. and have vowed that history will not repeat. The Westmen also will be seeking revenge for last year's 25-26 loss to Westminster, and for many of the Geneva gridders it will be their last game against Geneva's arch rival.

Against Lock Haven last Saturday, the Covenanters showed a high-powered running and passing attack which netted three quick touchdowns. And up on the Hill-top campus, the feeling prevails that the Covie grid machine is ready to roll against Westminster.

Coach West has indicated that he will stick to his usual starting lineup which will show Frank Lettler and Joe Nemecek at the ends; Andy Fondrk and Jim Eakin tackles; Al Carbone and George Lawrence, guards; and Pete Carbone, center.

In the backfield, Bill Edwards will do the signal calling, and at his service will be the hard-driving Adam Karcis and the fleet-footed Jim Pietro at the halfback slots, and Jack Scanlon, fullback.

55th Meeting

Tomorrow's game will be the 55th meeting of the two schools in the series which started back in 1891. Since that time, the Genevans have won 33 and lost 14. Seven of the contests have ended in ties. The Covenanters won in 1946.

Washington Hopes To Upset Streak Of East Siders

Interest Mounts In Junior High Championship Battle At Taggart Stadium Saturday

George Washington Junior high school will be out to end several streaks compiled by Benjamin Franklin when the two teams meet at Taggart stadium Saturday night, the kickoff at 8 p.m.

They'll be out to end a long line of Franklin victories in the Washington-Franklin series, a Franklin winning streak that has only been marred by a tie with Butler this year and will be out to be the first team to cross the Patriots' goal line this year.

Franklin 1948 Champs
Last year's junior high school title match went to Franklin 19-7, with big John Roussos leading the way for the East Siders. In 1947 the Patriots took a 13-0 decision with big John getting off on long touchdown runs in the final period to sew up the game.

This year Roussos is missing from the Franklin lineup and the Little Presidents are not unhappy.

about it. This year they can concentrate on Hemphill, Cook and Medure, who they hope won't be quite as hard to bring down as John.

Coach Clark McClelland has come up with several nice looking backs, himself, this year at Washington. Joe Lane and John Tardio at the halfbacks posts have looked very good in recent games and Lee Pears has done a good job at fullback.

Both lines ought to be strong, with Franklin probably having the edge in reserves.

Glenn Davis May Play With Phils

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—(INS)—The Phillies appeared quite ready today to sign Glenn Davis, Army's famed "Mr. Outside", to a baseball contract next year.

Davis is slated for discharge from the army next June 1. Unofficial reports said Davis has agreed not to sign with any major league club until a final conference with Phillies owner Robert M. Carpenter.

These same sources indicated that Davis will be signed as a bonus player.

The great West Point athlete is reportedly a better baseball player than griddler.

Rutgers University will be a new addition to the Penn State football schedule in 1950.

Titan Booters Meet Frostburg

Soccer Game At New Wilmington Saturday Will Be Tough One, Titans Confident

Westminster once-beaten soccer Titans awaited their fifth battle of a never-let-you-rest season today, aware that they'll have to go all out against the Frostburg (Md.) college booters to win. However tomorrow's opponent, complete with an impressive record, will raise few eyebrows in the Titan camp.

Coach Harold Burry's Titans are convinced there are no breather games on their schedule.

Frostburg's only loss this campaign was to the Plaid of Carnegie Tech by a 1-0 count but, more interesting, tomorrow's opponents own a thrilling 1-0 win over the strong Slippery Rock booters. The Titans suffered their only loss Tuesday afternoon at Slippery Rock, 3-0.

Hope To Bounce Back

Burry hopes to bounce back from the Rocket loss with practically the same lineup that started against Slippery Rock. Captain Art Shaffer of Ellwood City will start at the goalie post, with Bob Cullison of Pittsburgh and Norb Borowicz of Pulaski in fullback roles. Halfbacks will be Ed Davis of Cochran, Don Kirsopp of Mt. Lebanon and Emil Reznik of Pittsburgh. Alex Spisak of Pittsburgh Westminster leading scoring threat, will be at center forward. Kenmore, N. Y. will be represented by Paul Fenwick at the inside left post and Bill Samuels of New Castle will be at the inside right post. Lawrence Garrett of New Wilmington will start at outside right and Edwin "Dutch" Urban of Philadelphia, the only newcomer to the Titan starting eleven, will be at the outside left spot.

Game time is set for 1:30 p. m. Saturday afternoon at New Wilmington. Following the Frostburg battle, the Titans will have three opponents remaining on their schedule. Next Titan home game will be played Tuesday afternoon against Allegheny college.

Saddler-De Marco To Fight Tonight

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Sandy Saddler, the Harlem battler who won the featherweight title from Willie Pep only to lose it back again, invades the lightweight realm tonight against New Yorker Paddy De Marco in the ten-round feature at Madison Square Garden.

Saddler is favored at 2½ to 1 with a possible title shot at Champion Ike Williams awaiting the victor.

Wins Sweepstakes, But Worried Of Job

ARLINGTON, N. J., Oct. 28.—(INS)—Robert Black, 71, is richer today by $70,000—but worried about his job.

Black, father of four, has been sexton of the First Methodist church of Arlington, N. J., for 22 years. He won the money on a ticket he bought on Sterope, the upset winner of the Irish sweepstakes.

"But I think they'll let me keep my job," said Black, hopefully. "Methodists aren't as strict as they used to be."
